The social evening arranged by the Ladies Curling Club was very delightful. While the men's club were discussing the more heavy affairs of state, pertaining to the club, the ladies engaged many lively contented games of bridge and whist.

At the skirt of the bargains, under the capable playing of Mr. McGrover, all assembled in the dining hall. Here were long tables, decorated with emblems dear to the curlers' hearts. A centre piece on each of the long tables were the "Mans", guarded by small brooms, and festooned with streamers of red, white and blue (the club's colors) and bits of leather quietly proclaiming the original home of the sport.

Streamers of red, white, and blue were also arranged about the various lights, falling thence to corners of a table, giving a very pretty effect. A delicious supper was served and thoroughly enjoyed by the many guests.

A program by the community singing, under the genial leadership of Mr. G. H. Patrick, induced folks to forget their troubles, if they had any.

A solo, "The Sound of the Bell", was well rendered by Mr. C. A. Lydell, who was compelled to respond with an encore.

A French song, "Allezou", by Thos. E. Wright, was sung with so much bonhomie that the spirit became contagious, and the community singing, this was voted the piece de resistance. This concluded the part of the program.

President Ridley next introduced the next feature to be the presentation of prizes, before doing this, however, he wished to compliment and thank the ladies for the very efficient way in which they had carried out their part of the evening's pleasure.

President Ridley said this was the first time the ladies and gentlemen of the Curling Club had combined their annual meeting, and he hoped it would in future be the rule.

President Ridley called on Mr. Geo. Jones to present the ladies' prizes. Mr. Jones presented the prizes to the various ladies, accompanying each with graceful and humorous little comments.

Mr. Bailey next awarded the prizes to the men, who had won in the "hard fought" contest. He spoke of the enjoyment and good sportsmanship which had been displayed on the rink, and thanked very heartily the donors of the various prizes for their generosity in contributing so splendidly.

The tables were then removed and dancing enjoyed until a late hour.

The committee of ladies, to whose energetic effort is due the success of the supper and beauty of decorations. Messdames Lydell, Ridley, Perry, Whitehead, Howe, Brown, Jackson and J. French.

CARSELAND

Carceland Wheat Pool meeting was held on Sunday afternoon, and was addressed by Dr. O. German, E. R. Briggs, and T. R. Humphries, of the Pool head office. These men gave a very comprehensive review of the Pool's activities. The attendance was the largest ever held. Mr. Briggs, of the Pool, spoke, dealt with the manner in which the growers' accounts were handled at head office. He was followed by Mr. Humphries, who dealt with the manner of checking the grades, balance of accounts, and relationship of elevators handling Pool wheat. The two cent elevator reserve retained by the pool will eventually be distributed to the growers. Mr. German followed with his address, which was a masterpiece. He dealt with all Pool problems in a very efficient manner, and showed where the farmers were benefited by belonging to the Pool, and continue to do so after the next contract signed up. The speakers were given a very hearty vote of thanks at the close of the meeting. Come all you farmers and sign up a hundred per cent contract for the next five year period.

GATENBY'S MILLINERY DISPLAY IS UNUSUALLY ATTRACTIVE

It is said: "In the Spring a young man's thoughts turn to thoughts of love." In the Spring a woman's fancy turns to hats and dresses and gloves.

The latter industry can be amply gratified by a visit to the Gatenby Millinery Store.

Mr. Gatenby has placed on display a large number of hats of most attractive shapes, shades, and styles. These are combinations of brand and wit, fancy, staid and broad, and all. Some ribbon-trimmed, others with ornament of flower or feather.

This is a very smart and stylish selection of hats, in all shades, to suit all complexions, and the price is as usually very reasonable.

A visit to the dress goods section too will prove very fascinating to all ladies.

SPORT NOTES

WHY THE GIANTS ARE NOW STRONGER

SARASOTA, Fla.—John McGraw, during his twenty-fifth year as manager of the New York Nationals, is pretty well satisfied with his ball club. The brainy leader of the Giants is very emphatic in the belief that he is in charge of a first division ball club, one that should never be lower than third.

"You know a ball club that is able to stick around consistently in the first division is always a pennant possibility," is the way McGraw conveys his opinion as to the chances of the Giants to win the hunting this year.

McGraw has four definite reasons for believing the Giants are a better club than last year. He names them in this order: Hornsby, Roush, Grimes and DeMowre.

"Hornsby is my style player," says McGraw. "Frisch isn't. Hornsby is a star with a thick skin, who can weather criticism when it is coming to him. Frisch is temperamental and thin-skinned. He had to be handled with kid gloves. However, my gloves finally wear out, and then he is too hot to handle."

"My ball club has needed a really great centre fielder for several years. No one can be classed as a pennant performer unless it has a brilliant performer in centre field.

"Grimes has always been a winning pitcher, a fighter. With a club like the Giants back of him, he should be good for close to 20 victories, maybe more."

"DeMowre looks like a big league catcher, despite the fact that he failed to stick with the Yankees and the Red Sox. I am positive he will greatly help my catching. Speaking of catchers, I have a young man by the name Cunningham who is a great prospect."

"Like most every other major league manager, my pitching has me worried. It may come and then it may not. I got my new ones, I feel that Clarkson, with Toledo last year, will help me. I am also most favorably impressed with a young left-hander, Luis Salome, sent on to me by Sam Crawford, former Detroit star."

"Give the Giants a fair break in pitching this year and they will have plenty to say as to who will win the National pennant."

McGraw is said to be drawing a salary of $100,000 and while that certainly is not a bad deal, it is not as good as he is entitled to with such ability that there were reasons to believe that he had very little to do with the players.

Before McGraw reported to the Saratoga training camp, Hornsby assigned his duties as captain with as much authority that he actually was in charge of the camp and the other players played right along with him.

Some of the critics have said that the St. Louis Cardinals made Hornsby successful as a manager, and that he had very little to do with the management of the club, but the results do not bear out this contention. It was Hornsby who got the team in the top of a hot pennant fight and it was he who kept the players together and Hornsby put the spirit in them and kept them going.

If McGraw should win the pennant this year and Hornsby lives up to expectations, it would be no surprise if the Giant manager retires.

HORNBY TO GIANTS MANAGER

NEW YORK—After watching the way in which Rogers Hornsby took hold of his new job with the New York Giants and the enthusiasm with which he carried out his job as captain, there are many who think that John McGraw wants him to manage the club when he retires.

It is one of the current indications offering to hear that McGraw is starting his last season with the Giants, but it's bound to come because some season must be his last, and there are reasons to believe that he is getting ready to get out of active participation in field duties of the club.

McGraw is starting his twenty-fifth season as manager of the Giants and there were indications last year that he was tiring of the strain of handling a pennant contender or that he was cracking under the strain.

From sources close to the club it was known that McGraw had Frisch in mind as a possible successor, but when Frisch missed a couple of games last year and how close McGraw is said to have marked him off as a possibility. He not only removed him from the list of candidates, but he trained him away to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hornsby is said to be drawing a salary of $100,000 and while that certainly is not a bad deal, it is not as good as he is entitled to with such ability that there were reasons to believe that he had very little to do with the players.

Six resolutions were also passed, one of the outstanding of which was urging the locals to discuss and obtain as much information on the forthcoming Canadian Jubilee. The whole day was one of unparalleled and rare activities, and this was truly expressed by all those present.

One of the most interesting lectures on "Co-operative Marketing" ever delivered in Daismead was given by Mr. R. O. German, secretary of the Alberta Wheat Pool, last Saturday evening. His lecture was illustrated by charts, and by his own experiences before the marketing of the Wheat Pool method of marketing. Other speakers of the evening were Messrs. Wilson, Briggs, and Humphreys, who all dealt briefly with the workings of the Wheat Pool departments. The meeting was attended by some thirty farmers and towns people, who considered that efforts made to attend the meeting were very well repaid.

SPORT NOTES

"Joe Boley is the greatest shortstop I have ever seen in action," says Manager Dan Howley of the St. Louis Browns, about Connie Mack's new infielder.

Boley hailed from the Baltimore team of the International League. For three years Dan Howley was the manager of the Toronto club of the same league, which has plenty of chance to closely observe his play.

Reports are that Muddy Riel, Washington catcher, and Steve Stewart, utility infielder of the Senators, may go to the St. Louis Browns, and that Willie Schang, veteran receiver, come to the Nats in exchange.

Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion, and Jack Dempsey, former titleholder, were in Los Angeles recently, although they did not meet. Dempsey said he would have immediately for Wheeler Hot Springs, 75 miles north of here, to begin intensive training for an attempted ring comeback. Tunney, filling a Los Angeles vaudeville engagement, was angry over published reports that he was "crushed" by Dempsey by refusing to have breakfast with him at Dempsey's hotel.

Ray Schalk, manager and catcher of the Chicago White Sox, fractured the second finger of his right hand in an exhibition game with the Wichita Falls team of the Texas League.

Two pitchers are due in the Toronto camp from the Detroit team. When Morality was questioned as to the identity of the twirlers destined for the Leafs, he replied that he had not decided what twirlers will come to Lou Pohl, but indicated that they will be recruits. George Smith, former Leaf, and "Big" Pollack, a veteran, would not be a disappointment to Toronto fans.

Hal Chase Jr., aged 16, son of the greatest first baseman of all time, is becoming a regular baseball player in San Francisco, and entirely too young for the professional ranks.

Plant Hardy Trees

The Mulch System

mulch system

I am thoroughly convinced that the best, cheapest, and easiest way to grow trees on farms is by the mulch method. This is nature's way of producing forests. In the place of trees, we substitute rotted straw. If your trees are three feet high they may be mulched down with old rotted straw-stalk bottoms. Be sure to cover the entire surface of the ground, and at least three feet on the outside of the last row of trees to a depth of one foot. If insufficient is used it is worse than useless. If your trees are three feet high when they arrive from the Nursery, they may be cultivated twice in the Spring and mulched down the first part of July the first season. The rotted straw should be applied to old Belts about the same time, and any

HONOR FOR A CANADIAN

Among those who had the honor of being elected to the National Executive of Women's Institutes of England is Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.B.E., formerly of the Women's Institute at Bournemouth, who first brought the idea of Women's Institutes to England from Canada, and who founded the movement there in 1915. In ten years the membership has reached over 200,000 in rural districts. Mrs. Watt is one of the 12 women on the executive: are Lady Denman, president; Miss Grace Hadow, Mrs. Wintingham (the first English woman elected to the House of Commons); Miss Beauverie, Viscountessess of Drogheda; Mrs. G. C. G. Margaret Bosworth, (Lord Bury's sister); Lady Dorothy Meynell, the Dowager Lady Suffield, Mrs. Drage, Countess of Listowel, Hon. Mrs. Dalgety and Mrs. Holland-Martin. It is interesting to note that the majority of the postal vote from all over England.

Brunswick Women's Institute," says Marianne Grey Otty, public convenor of the N.B.W.'s. "This met in the historical legislative chamber of the parliament buildings." She continues, "where grave faces of by-gone legislators looked down from their gilt frames on a hundred or more bright-faced earnest New Brunswick women occupying the red plush chairs, carved with the British lion, sacred for so many years to masculine provincial leaders. Miss Stuart emphasized the value and simplicity of making wise use of the time available." The idea received the heartiest approval of the N. B. government officials, which suggested that the W. I. could render a real service by educating the people on this most important subject.

EFFICIENCY: CONTEST

The Department of Agriculture of Alberta has offered an efficiency scholarship, a year's course in one of the provincial schools of agriculture, to members of the Alberta Women's Institute Girls' Clubs. The competition is first between Clubs and the subjects are home economics essay, poster, mounted pictures, clothing booklet, secretory Girls Club reports, etc.

The club obtaining the highest number of points will have a teacher sent from one of the schools of agriculture, who will conduct and examine the girls on a three day course in home economics. The girl getting the highest marks will be awarded the scholarship.

HANDICRAFT EXCHANGE

The W. I.'s of Prince Edward Island have started a handicraft exchange. A feature of it is all kinds and types of hand hooked and hand made rugs, in great variety and designs and shapes. The material used is wool, while vegetable dyes are utilized for the coloring of the wool. Hand drawn and colored canvases for hooking may clude beautiful woven table runners, couch covers and portieres made by the Acadian women of Prince County, from Island grown flax, as well as a limited number of hand knitted bed spreads. The W. I. members hook these rugs and in many instances draw designs on the canvass.

ALBERTA'S SCHOOL ENROLMENT

There was a total enrolment of 150,556 pupils in Alberta public and high schools during 1926, an increase over 1925 of 2,730. Attendance at rural schools shows improvements. The demand for secondary education is on the increase, and the percentage of pupils continuing through the high schools is higher than formerly.

Thirteen hundred students attended the University of Alberta last year, of which 897 were men, and 405 were women.

A meeting of the School Fair Association was held last Saturday. The prize money and special prizes were assigned to the various classes, and prize lists will be in the hands of the teachers and pupils shortly. Mr. Schulte was elected to be President of the Association. Pledged donations have been received as follows: W. Hudson, $1.60; Women's Institute $2.90; White & Son, 5.00; and Mr. Buchanan was a visitor to the Primary room last Friday.

During the month of March 187 children were in attendance at the school, and the percentage 86. Seventy-eight pupils had a perfect attendance.

The spelling match will be held on Friday, April 25. LOCAL.—Meera meera. The local members of the Canadian Legion were much pleased when they learned on Tuesday that Art Wain, Provincial Secretary, and R. B. Annual Meeting
The annual meeting of the Curling Club was held prior to the social entertainment.

The financial statement presented by Secretary Quilra, was most satisfactory to the members.

President Ridley reviewed the year work very completely, and related the trials and tribulations that ice-making had made for the members, and troubles that erratic ice had produced for the players.

He had an immense fund of information in regard to the difficulties experienced by other clubs, and in a great many cases the remedies that they suggested to meet similar conditions, were the trials of the local club as well.

There were several nominations made for the office of President, and notwithstanding the pleasings of the President to be relieved of his arduous duties, each nominee refused to allow his name to stand, and persisted in their demands that Ed Ridley carry on for another year.

What could the poor man do but surrender, which he graciously did, much to the satisfaction of all present. The services of Geo. Quilra were commended as secretary, and he was not given an opportunity to say it was willing or not. Thus the club is off to a splendid start for next season.

The water supply was fully discussed, and Harry Thorburn of the Strathmore Hotel tendered use of his sewer falling well, if the club can make arrangements to make use of it.

This matter will be arranged by the executive. There were several chances made in regard to election of players for the rink, which were not very clear to the standard curling expert, the players will have to secure the information from the president or secretary.

"Together"

By Rudyard Kipling
With crew and captain understand
Each other's mind, each other's hand
It takes a gale and more than a gale
To put their ship ashore.

Our own men, do you know the other commands, although they are called to the bone.

And both together can live through Weather that neither can face alone.
On our part, let us be loyal to our office, when we do get lean, and stand by and help them in every way, and we may not find it so difficult to secure them. Begin with your own institute and carry it up through the community organization to the provincial.

On the whole our women are loyal and faithful to their officers, but it is the minority I speak.

Please do not think I am preaching blue rain, but I speak as the next member of the Ladies' Board, and am just giving my impressions gained at the Provincial Conventions during the last few years, and in the four of this district last autumn.

Constructive criticism is a good thing, but to be correct it is not the destructive variety you get forth.

I have heard the criticism that Mrs. So and So has been in office too long, it is time she gave someone else a chance. They will not deny that she has made a very capable officer, but will tell you there are "just as good fish in the sea". Certainly there are! You have only to travel about our own district to find them: women who are well able to hold our own in our work, better than some of us feel very inferior.

We must remember, however, that our Institutes have passed through some very trying experiences during the last few years, and if it had not been for the thorough knowledge and far-seeing ability of some of our officers, we might be occupying a far different position today.

Thus, we should have few blood and new ideas, but let us work them in gradually. We have a few women, but I am glad to say they are very few, who, when they attend Conventions, lobby like seasoned politicians and to me it is the one thing that spurs the conventions on election years. By their will I say jealous criticism, they hurt those who have given of their very best, and not only do they hurt them, but hurt the whole organization.

The situation looks very different from the inside to what it does from the outside. I assure you.

Just so, really, an officer who trends on her fellow members to gain her own ends, and reach the top, is a bad influence, and the laywomen who are called the poisonous critics. They

ENGINEERS AND CANADIAN PACIFIC PICTURES

A capacity audience, numbering over three hundred greeted the presentation by the local members of the Engineering Institute of Canada, in co-operation with Messrs. M. S. Hille and L. A. Brown, of moving pictures loaned by the courtesy of the Engineering Institute and the Canadian Pacific at Hille Theatre on Tuesday evening March 29th.

The program consisted of two reels depicting incidents on a round the world cruise of a C.P.R. liner, two reels, showing mining and smelting operations at Kimberly and Trail, B.C., and several other reels showing the beauties of the Woods, and scenes in Japan.

These pictures were of great educational value, and did considerable to make evident to a lot of people the magnitude of some of our country's natural resources, as well as the far reaching ramifications of its commerce. The Trail Smelter alone, in 1925, produced $2,975,452.00 of metals, consisting of 2,352 tons of gold, 4,847,455 lbs. of silver, 1,500,000 lbs. of copper, 117,594 tons of lead, 48,611 tons of zinc.

The figures and statistics quoted by Mrs. G. H. Patrick, A.M.E.I.C. were to those not conversant with the magnitude of this development, certainly a great surprise. The fact that the ore body of the Sullivan mine, which is the major contributor to the Trail Smelter, is as much as 246 feet thick in places, would indicate that there will be very little curtailment in these operations for many years to come.

The travel pictures gave a vivid indication of the wonderful places situated within comparatively short distances, as well as glimpses of the ever changing coast, and some "high spots" on the Mediterranean coasts of Europe and Africa.

No one attending would consider the evening ill spent, and the promoters are to be congratulated on providing such an interesting entertainment, which it is to be hoped will be repeated, along similar lines, in the not too distant future.

Under such splendid service that might be accomplished because of their jealousy of others who have ability. On the other hand, there is the opposite type of leader who in her progressive ambition for others, helps them on the way. "And if I be lifted up, will draw all men up."

After all, it is co-operation and team work we need.

I hope my remarks have not seemed harsh. They have been meant to be kindly way, and I hope have been received so.

Let us endeavor to rise above the personalities and strive for the success of our work, and we will forget our little differences.

"Unless above himself he can erect himself.
How poor a thing is Man."

A FAREWELL PARTY

Through the kindness of Mrs. T. Chamberlain, the ladies of the Anglican Guild gave a farewell party for Miss Francis Harvey, who is shortly leaving for Calgary. There were four tables of Court Whist, Mrs. Hinchell winning the Prize. A very nice lunch was served, after which Mrs. T. Chamberlain, on behalf of the Guild, wished Miss Francis Harvey every happiness and success in her new life. This was followed by the singing of a "Jolly Good Fellow" and three pleasing songs.

Everyone is looking for a good crop moisture that has gone into the ground lately, to say nothing about that which fell last fall, we are quite warranted in thinking that the outlook has never been better.

A large number of migratory birds have returned to the district during the past week. We particularly notice a great number of bluebirds. It is to be hoped that as more trees are planted on the prairie, so the wild birds will increase. It must not be forgotten that wild birds are the greatest enemies of all insects here, and we only could have enough of them, a good many pests, such as wire worms, cut worms, etc. would soon vanish, to say nothing of the grasshopper.

After the regular convention of the Knights of Pythias Lodge last Monday evening, the wives and friends of the members were invited to a social even-delicious supper served. Later cards and dancing were enjoyed. A feature of the evening was the presentation to the lodge of a flag by Mr. Martin Hawkinson and Mr. Magnus Kjær.

The U.G.A. had a very successful night drive and dance to the S. & S. club last Friday evening. The whist prize was won by Mrs. Paul Bach-special prize, which was drawn, included the evening, was won by Mrs.

J. H. Hargrave, and when it was opened it was found to be a April Fool's prize in a large box. The prize included some mementos. After cards, everyone danced to the music supplied by the standard orchestra. This was the first dance for some months that any outsiders have been able to get into, owing to the bad roads. There were several cars come from Red Deer on Friday night.

Mrs. Sutherland, of Nainville, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fran-

Millions Obtained from Smoke

Millions of dollars have evaporated into thin air around Sudbury in the last forty years, from the best brains and muscles of the nickel mining companies. By an ingenious device the Mond Nickel Company now captures a fraction of the smoke and thereby supplies all Canada with an essential chemical—sulfuric acid.
Many and varied are the products from the nickel-copper ore in addition to the two principal minerals, and in the smelting of the ore the smoke is captured and the residue of the ore is the slag. The Mond Nickel, which makes economy of raw material a principle of the business, installed at great expense a plant which converts just ten per cent of the smoke from the smelters and produces annually fifty thousand tons of sulphuric acid, which meets all the requirements of the Canadian industry. This enormous chemical plant one of the amazing products of science, for by means of various heats and pressures, applied at different stages of the process, the acid is separated from the other elements. Different grades of the acid are made to meet the requirements of different markets, but all of it goes into automobile batteries. The chemical plant is operated with very little human aid. The corner of the building is a tiny office containing delicate apparatus which automatically reports what is taking place at different parts of the plant, so that by a glance at the charts, the engineer is able to regulate the manufacture of the acid.

This is, of course, only one of many by-products of the nickel industry, and the others range all the way from platinum to rock ballast for railway beds. The nickel which is separated from the ore is crushed and used by the Canadian Pacific Railway on many miles of its road, some of it going nearly as far west as Winnipeg. Gold and silver are recovered in the refining, as well as platinum, the precious metals totaling in value more than a million and a half dollars every year.

The sulphuric acid is manufactured at Coniston, near Sudbury, in that shiping district in the vicinity of Sudbury. Sudbury district produces ninety per cent of the world's nickel and in this year celebrating the fortieth anniversary of the discovery of nickel, which was first detected in the ore in 1887.
The central picture of the above layout shows a typical stretch of Canadian Pacific rock-ballast road bed. The upper photograph is a view of the sulphuric acid manufacturing facilities, while below is seen the large sulphuric acid storage tanks at Coniston, near Sudbury.

Ted: "No, but my spelling is simply atrocious."

A charming young widow at the station, enroute to Calgary, enquired: "What time do we get to Calgary, Mr. Agent?"

D. A. Perry: "You are due to get there at 4.50, unless you set your watch by Eastern time, which would make it 6.50. Then, of course, if you are going by daylight saving time, it would be 6.50, unless minute 3 should happen to be an hour and fifty minutes late—which she is."

Charming Widow: "Oh, thank you so much, Mr. Agent, so kind of you."

King Kelly says he was glad to find the other day where somebody said that the greatest kindness the country could do for the farmer would be to get off his neck and let him alone. "I quit takin' his mind off his work," he said, "nagin' him, an' botherin' him with investigators, an' advisers, an' inspectors, an' regulators, an' dictators. Other professions haist continually beset by such pests. But here is a lot out—The Wall Street Journal says the farmer don't pay half enough attention to his home an' family, an' reminds him that the most valuable crop he has is his children. Kin you beat that?"

The birth rate is provly fallin' off in Wall Street an' in other streets in other cities, an' here they come wantin' the farmers to maintain the birth rate of the nation, to raise more children to fill up the gaps in the cities.

City people have too much addin' about, too much club work, an' lodge work, an' social duties, o' one kind an' another, to fool with children, an' they're askin' the farmer who haistn't got nothin' to do but plow, an' milk, an' stack corn, an' cut wood, an' feed hogs, an' lay fer gophers, an' worry about where his next box o' axle grease is comin' from, to get busy an' raise more children.

During a school examination Mike Moran came across a question that absolutely floored him.

"If one horse" it ran, "can run a mile in a minute and a half, and another is able to do the same distance in two minutes, how far ahead would the first horse be if the two horses ran a race of two miles at their respective speeds?"

At last a bright idea struck Mike. He returned the paper with the query unanswered, but with the following comment:

"My dad refuses to let me have anything to do with horse racing."

Jack Taylor: "These cars be awful shty, they, Pete."

Pete Teller: "Oh, I dunno. One of 'em give me a lift over a block today."

Jack: "Gards! But it must have been gone fast when it hit you."

Mrs. Blank: "So your husband must be getting miffed an' annoyed, how he has a valet, butler and cook. How nice!"

Friend Wife: "Yes, I'm them."

Some of Frank Miller's thoughts while learning to drive a new Nash car. My, I thought the thing would go backwards when I turned the brake that way, but it did not seem to know what a brake was for, and went "tunng" ahead. I almost ran into a man, before I could stop it. I don't see what men want to ramble by our house for, when I am trying to start the car. There are plenty of other streets. This car must have something wrong with it, the way it becomes when it starts. Alas! Alas!—Oh, I guess it wants a little more gas.

This telephone pole seems coming towards me, so it couldn't have been for we are passing it now, but there's another car running on my side of the street.

I wonder, but it seemed to be coming right at me, I wonder if I can turn this corner without stepping on the brake—Land skree! It was the gas I stepped on, and the car almost turned turtle.

I hate these foot things they put on the street corner to turn on, strangle I nearly went into another car trying to get around it. As I go down "Second Street" every parked car switches its tail at me as if it was just ready to back out.

Heaven's—there is a boy crossing the street, and I hope I miss him. These the horn at him. I don't see what boys are coming to nowadays, crossing the street at all hours of the day.

There is a woman holding her car out just as I want to go by, and she has no business to be doing it. She ought to wait, but women have the sense of the fitness of things on the street.

And another child crossing the road with a wagon.

Children should be kept at home when people are using cars on the streets. A man said awful things just because I passed him on the wrong side, as if it makes any difference which way I went by him. There I'm glad to be back safely with all the people acting the way they do on the street.

Bountiful paid for bobcats in New Brunswick, by the Department of Lands and Mines, have so far exceeded the figures for the corresponding period of last year, according to L. A. Gagnon, chief game warden, who states that wild cats are being killed in greater numbers each year.

Ontario buyers of milk cows have about completed the purchase of five carloads of Germanys cows from Colchester, Cumberland and Pictou counties. The buyers are Anderson Brothers and Messrs. Gresham and Calder from the Hamilton districts.

The first auction sale of horses that has taken place in Montreal for some years was opened at the East End Stock Market, March 28. Stallions were put at 200 horses and it was stated that approximately 200 horses were sold. The demand was mostly for heavy draught horses, Frenchies, Clydesdales and the like for carriages and for lumbering purposes, coming chiefly from Alberta and Saskatchewan, and some from the middle west.

Consistent upon an agreement reached at a general conference of Canadian and United States telegraph companies the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs have announced that cable words will be accepted at all their offices in future for day and night letters. This departure will affect both Canadian and international business, the companies concerned being the Postal-Telegraph Company, the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, the Canadian National Telegraphs and the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The development of a new industry from the propagation of muskrats and other water fur-bearing animals, in land and water areas, leased from the Province of Alberta through agreement with the Dominion Government, was indicated by Hon. George Headley, Minister of Agriculture, in committee discussion in the Alberta Legislature. The amendment would give the Government power to regulate and license fur and game farms, and to lease the Dominion water and land areas for the propagation of such animals.

A keen competitor to Betsy Wiley, the Nova Scotia world's champion milk and butter producer, has been discovered at Fox River, Camlachie County. Mr. Henry S. Kerr of this place, claims that he owns the champion butter producing cow in her class. This cow is a grade Ayrshire and Durham cow, which has just recently freshened. In one week she produced 352 lbs. of milk, which churned 20 1/2 lbs. of butter, after deducting approximately 12 quarts of milk and 1 1/2 quarts of cream for home consumption. This record is creating keen interest.

WILL CARBONISED COAL SOLVE CANADA'S PROBLEM?

The Province of Alberta has been blessed with millions of tons of coal, and they have sufficient supply of miners to place on the market and railways have connections convenient to make transportation quickly.

The Province of Ontario is without a supply, and each year expends many millions of dollars in the United States for their coal requirements. The railroad managements have been requested, and pleaded with, to grant rates that would open this market for Alberta coal.

The result up to date is a miserable few thousand tons that have reached the Ontario market under experimental shipments, with the result that the mines are only working part time, or shut down until a later date.

The business men in all the mining towns are suffering, and the farmers are short a local market for their grain, cattle, and produce, and the railway employees are without steady employment, that the coal business would create, not only in hauling coal, but in hauling return shipments of supplies that would be needed, that are produced in the eastern provinces.

A process of low carbonisation of Canadian coal has been developed, which may have very far reaching effects upon the coal industry, and in commencing upon this process, the Ottawa Citizen says: "This is a process which has been made commercially successful in the old country, but will be new in Canada. It is claimed by the promoters that a new and definite contribution toward a solution of Canada's fuel problem will be made by this process."

"According to one of Canada's top experts, the carbonised coal produced from slack coal by the new process will be a fuel equal to best anthracite at present placed on the Canadian market. "It will be smokeless and it is claimed that $13 a ton will be the maximum cost to the consumer, delivered into his private home, and cases as by-products of the process will provide sources of income to the corporation."

"The process of low temperature carbonisation converts all types of bituminous coals into smokeless fuels, and both Nova Scotia and Alberta coals can be successfully treated. The new product will be given a special name, which at present is being kept secret."

"Plans are practically complete for the construction of two 1,000 tons per day plants in Western Ontario, and one in Ontario of similar capacity, as a beginning. These plants will be operated by subsidiary companies. Some are being taken over for the organization of similar subsidiary companies in Montreal and Quebec for similar plants."

EVERYONE SHOULD CAREFULLY INSPECT WATER SUPPLY

The sanitary condition of hundreds of farm wells calls for careful examination.

Many homes are supplied with water that has been subject to contamination, creating a menace not only to the family of the owners, but also to the whole community.

Wells in many cases are located without very much due consideration in regard to the matter of drainage, and often altogether, much too close to sources of possible contamination. Each farmer would be well advised to give this matter very serious consideration.

W. A. Rothwell, an eminent American sanitary engineer, recently stated that the country communities are silent accusers of the unsanitary, wasteful and life-killing water system "enjoyed" by the average farm home, according to U.S. Census figures that show that nine out of ten farm homes are still without running water in the home, though automobiles and telephones are found in nearly 100 per cent. of some sections. Such diseases as typhoid and others that come from contaminated water supplies, as well as disease originating with contamination, are practically all due to impure water supply for the home and the carrying in of what little water is used. Death among babies runs three times as high in homes where all water must be carried into the home by hand, while the supply is piped in under pressure and connected with bath and proper sewage disposal, according to health officials."

PROVINCIAL FINANCES

The annual review of Alberta's finances was presented to the Legislature in session at Edmonton last week, by Hon. H. G. Field, Minister of the Treasury. In view of the fact that the financial year of the Government is to be changed to end March 31 of each year, Mr. Field presented estimates covering the eighteen months to March 31 of 1928.

For the calendar year of 1927, he estimated that there will be a surplus in the provincial treasury of more than $26,000, with another $20,000 for the first three months of 1928, making a total surplus of more than $46,000.

The total estimated revenue for 1927 shows an increase over the actual revenue for 1926 of $588,900, and the estimated expenditures for the present year show an increase over the actual expenditures of 1926 of $589,200.

Two new taxes were announced, the first being a five per cent. tax on the turnover of all pari-mutual machines in the province, and the second being an additional tax of one cent a gallon on gasoline. The first is expected to bring $100,000 into the treasury, and the second is expected to bring $280,000 in.

Mr. Macquensen, of Standard, was in town over the week end, taking stock at the Revelstoke Lumber Yard.

SPeAKS ON SOME FARM PROBLEMS

OYEN, Alta.—The luncheon of the Oyen District Builders' Association, held at the Alberta Hotel, Oyen, broke all records for attendance. A business meeting was held immediately after the luncheon, when it was decided to carry on with the luncheon throughout the summer, the next luncheon was held on the second of April.

Immediately following the business meeting, an address was given by E. C. Hallman, of Acadia Valley on "Some Farm Problems." Mr. Hallman opened his address stating that it was an accepted fact in many many places that it took forty years to find the proper method of farming in any new country. He then outlined his farm problems, selecting the main three for discussion. Low rainfall, soil drifting and travelling weeds, according to Mr. Hallman, would be the main problems for years to come.

Low rainfall was not an unmitigated evil. While it forced the farmer to lessen its evil effects by reducing costs of production. The problem here was that of labor efficiency, briefly illustrated by rating of man-power and horse-power, one horse power being roughly ten man power. All admit labor to be the most expensive of farming and the man who could handle 12 horses simply provided 120 man power in his production. This might not be the most efficient number for all men, but it did illustrate the point. Cost must be brought to a point below labor to be the most expensive of farming and a lean year must be expected.

"This may not be a dairying country, but four to six cows are the very best insurance against a poor year. Eight cows will yield fifteen dollars a week and that gets by in a tight place. Ours is one of the best vegetable growing districts and a good garden goes a long way towards lessening farm costs. Summerall the garden every other year," said Mr. Hallman.

"Soil drifting is one of the least studied of our problems, probably because it is developing more recently. So far there is no accepted solution. The most hopeful sign of progress towards the finding of a remedy is the recent questionnaire sent out by Mr. Barnes at Swift Current in an effort to find out the best solution." Mr. Hallman dealt briefly with the present known method of preventing soil drifting.

"Travelling weeds apparently must be first dealt with at the border of one's own farm," the speaker declared. The problem was not so much that of the farmer's weeds as that of the woods from the idle lands in the district. Shelter belts about the farm provide a method of stopping the blowing in of weeds, a problem of many years growth and no little trouble in properly cultivating trees. Mr. Hallman said that for some years he had been growing the Canadian hedge for this purpose. It has a number of advantages over the trees, the main advantages being easy to cultivate, for the hedge requires only the running of the cultivator down each side of the hedge at proper intervals. In closing Mr. Hallman paid tribute to the farmers who were sticking to the job.
